

The Archos wall lamp is inspired by the wind filling the sail on a sailboat creating a soft curve giving the impression of motion and the infinity of the ocean. Thomas Darø has in the design repeated the shape to create a soft, light and inviting look. The extruded and cut aluminum shade will from all angles hint the soft curves resembling the wind filling the sail with wind. The exterior matt finish provides a nice contrast to the reflective silver on the inside of the shade - resembling the sun reflecting on the sea. The Archos wall lamp is both elegant, durable and easy to mount. The flexible mounting plate allows for running the cable straight into the wall or on the wall. The Archos is well suited for placement next to a flat screen TV, besides a sofa or bed - or as elegant wall lighting in hallways.
